

The Suppliants Project

Tuesday, February 28th

5:30-8:00 p.m.

Price Center Ballroom West

The Suppliants Project presents dramatic readings by acclaimed actors of scenes from Aeschylus' play The Suppliants — an ancient tragedy about fifty refugees who seek asylum in the ancient city of Argos, and the struggle within that city about whether to receive them — as a catalyst for powerful, candid discussions about immigration, domestic and gender-based violence, human trafficking, and the refugee crisis.

Featuring performances by Alfred Molina (Spider-Man), Frankie Faison (Till), Nyasha Hatendi (Alex Rider), and a chorus of San Diego community members.

Presented by Theater of War Productions. Translated, directed, and facilitated by Bryan Doerries.

Sponsored by the Humanities Program at Revelle College, The Center for Hellenic Studies, and Chicax and Latinx Studies.

Additional support from The Institute of Arts and Humanities, Office of the Dean of the School of Arts and Humanities, Vice Chancellor's Office for Equity, Diversity and Inclusion, Society for Classical Studies, Gerry and Jeannie Ranglas Chair in Ancient Greek History, Making of the Modern World, Eleanor Roosevelt College, Classical Studies Program, Department of History, Latin American Studies, The Ancient Jewish Civilizations Chair, and Middle East Studies.
